The Jewish Intelligentsia

8th International Conference for Jewish Studies Researchers

Professor Jerzy Jedlicki (1930–2018) in Memoriam

* * *

14–15 November 2019, Institute of History at University of Warsaw

The aim of the conference is to outline the meaning of the term “Jewish intelligentsia” and to define its contexts — historical, social, cultural, linguistic, and literary.

During two days of discussion we would like to focus on the questions of when and how the category of the “Jewish intellectual” in Central and Central-Eastern Europe was formed. We are also interested in the subject of internal differences and divisions within the group.

The conference will focus on Jewish intellectuals in both academic and professional environment, but also trace the fate of the representatives of intelligentsia without educational qualifications. Our reflection will focus on the functioning of the Jewish intelligentsia in society and various manifestations of its involvement in the domains of politics, economy, education, or art.

We invite researchers from various academic backgrounds to reflect upon the Jewish intelligentsia in order to create the most thorough picture possible of this social stratum. Conference participants are requested to submit interdisciplinary topics or in one of the academic disciplines.

We would like this conference to be a modest contribution to the studies of the Polish intelligentsia, for which prof. Jerzy Jedlicki (1930–2018) laid the grounds. Therefore, we honor his memory at our gathering.

The conference will be accompanied by a program of educational and cultural events, including the opening of the exhibition on the 5th anniversary of the Jewish Studies Student Association at University of Warsaw.
